CARNIVAL TO BE A FEATURE OF THE FAIR

BEAUTIFUL GIRLS FROM VARI-OUS COUNTIES OF STATE.

Many are the promises of unusual features at Utah's state fair this year, October 3d to 10th, but no individual feature has gained so general and state wide an interest as the projected "Carnival of Counties," which on Monday night of fair week will form one of the most beautiful and imposing spectacles ever arranged for a state fair or other exposition in any western state.

The carnival of the counties was one of last year's innovations at the fair and so successful did it prove from every standpoint that arrangements are now being perfected whereby the glittering pageant will this year take on greater and finer proportions than ever.

All the counties in the state with the exception of three have already signified their intention of participating in the spectacle. In many counties arrangements are already being made for the selection of the queens to represent the counties and her maids of honor.

The most beautiful of Utah's daughters will vie with one another in charming the great throng that will assemble in the coliseum at the fair grounds Monday night of fair week. Drawn in beautifully decorated carriages and floats, the queens and their maids of honor will rav-enue the inclosure of the coliseum in stately pageant.

It is doubtful if any western state has ever inaugurated a state fair feature that has so quickly become popular throughout the counties as the carnival of the counties of the Utah fair. Last year a committee was appointed at large from the state to represent the counties in an advisory capacity to the directors of the state fair. This year the county commissioners of each county have been named as ex-officio members of the advisory board that will confer with the directors of the fair relative to the carnival to bring the county commissioners into direct and personal touch with the fair association authorities.

Representatives to the state fair association will leave late this week for a tour of every county in the state for the purpose of conferring with the county commissioners and advising them as to their plans for participation in the carnival.

The fact that the state fair opens on Saturday this year instead of on Monday will, it is believed, make the carnival of counties pageant even more impressive than last year.
Opening on Saturday morning, October 3d, the fair runs the evening eight days, including Sunday, October 12th. This will be the first year the state fair has been open on Sunday and the authorities of the fair association have made it plain that only the educational features of the exposition will be open on that day. So many hundreds of Utahans have found it impossible to visit the fair on week days during past years that it was felt the injustice of not giving them the opportunity of viewing the exhibits should not be repeated this year.
The only variation from the educational exhibits will be a beautiful band concert of sacred music.

DESIRABLE LANDS AT A REMARKABLY LOW PRICE

Elsewhere in this impression is an advertisement of the United Banks Realty company, Roosevelt, which is offering some of the good lands of the reservation at a very low figure. This company is quoting Ouray valley lands under water for from $12 to $15 per acre. Geo.
A. Pearce, manager of the company, writes The Advocate that bumper crops prevail everywhere on the reservation this year and that business conditions are excellent. Many are being attracted by the land values and the former Indian reservation is being settled up rapidly.
